

Visiting English Tutor Programme - Lingnan University, Hong Kong

Lingnan University cordially invites fresh graduates from our partner institutions in Canada, the U.S., the U.K., Australia and New Zealand to apply for a Visiting Tutor position.

*Duties begin in mid-August 2017

Visiting English Tutors (VETs) work in the Centre for English and Additional Languages (CEAL) <http://www.ln.edu.hk/ceal/>. They work in CEAL's English Language Support Service (ELSS) where they provide advice to undergraduate students and aid in the development of self-access materials. (<https://www.facebook.com/ceal.elss> & <https://www.youtube.com/user/CEALELSS> ).

VETs also design and run workshops for students aimed to develop their writing, reading, speaking and listening skills, with topics covering a wide range of academic and cultural themes. Other duties include organising cultural activities such as English Café's, Movie Nights, Outings, TEDxLingnanUniversity, etc.

A major objective of the Visiting English Tutor scheme is to provide opportunities for Lingnan University's local students to mix with people of a similar age group but from different cultural backgrounds. All applicants for this post must:

- be about to graduate from one of Lingnan partner universities in the above-listed countries with a first degree, preferably in the Arts, and preferably in English language or literature or linguistics
- have a basic Certificate-level teaching qualification, with a minimum of 100 hours input, such as the following: <http://www.oxfordseminars.com/index.php> <http://www.icaltefl.com/index.php/courses/tefl-tesol-certificate-course> Such a qualification can be gained once a provisional offer has been made
- be a native speaker of English
- be interested in spending a year or two living and working in Hong Kong
- be interested in interacting with students in Hong Kong
- be interested in gaining experience in the ESL field at tertiary level ♣have an outgoing personality

Benefits are as follows:

- The position is tenable from mid-August to mid-June and with the possibility of a further extension.
- The monthly salary is fixed at $HK16,000 per month (approx. $US2,100).
- VETs are each provided with fully furnished and equipped apartments on campus.
- Medical and dental benefits are provided by Lingnan University.
- Assistance will be given in obtaining a valid Hong Kong work visa from the Hong Kong Immigration Department.

If you wish to be considered for the Visiting English Tutor position, please send your CV with a covering letter to our ELSS Coordinator by email – elss@ln.edu.hk

Applications close on 5th March, 2017
