What would it take to draw you to a movie theater more often?

Marketing strategies:

- A smoking section (2)
- More comfortable seating and cheaper ticket prices (2)
- Student Discounts (2)
- "frequent flier miles" or a membership for moviegoers - people who love movies and love going to the movies should enjoy some kind of benefit over the nonchalant moviegoer
- A variety of movie previews. I feel like the previews they offer are not the "true" representation of the movie and therefore am usually pretty disappointed. (i.e. "The Exorcism of Emily Rose" - the previews made it look sooo scary when in fact the previews showed the only scary parts of the movie and the movie was very boring and many people in the theater that I was in ended up walking out before it even finished)
- Better advertising,
- Better concession prices/item choices.
- Better deals on pop-corn and pop.
- Better food and for lower prices! student rates always help.
- Better seating, lower prices
- Buy one get one free movies
- Cheaper tickets, like half the price of an evening showing on a weekend is now, like 4 or 5 bucks.
- Discount nights on ticket or food rates.
- Giveaways, i.e. food, tickets, etc...
- Good College discount at all show times including matinae and weekends.
- Good previews
- I would like to have memberships to theaters. I would pay a lot of money for that.
- If the movie theater was clean and well represented with great service and friendly staff. Also if they were showing a lot of movies and ones that I really liked.
- If theaters ran special days for college kids, or had a system to build points and get one free.
- If they had a wider variety of showings. Many times it's last minute and sometimes you want to see the movie but not at that time.
- Lazy boy chairs
- More advanced technology in sound and picture quality
- More advertisements
- More comfortable seating, better atmosphere, courteous audience
- More comfortable seats - more homely feel
- More convenient show times
- More convenient ticket purchasing, better selection of movies
- More previews on TV
- More tv commercials for the movie
- Previews available through my e-mail account, MSN. I check my e-mail multiple times a day. IF movie trailers were accessible from the same site, I would be likely to watch them.
Content:

- Better movies (21)
- Better movies and cheaper prices (6)
- Better films, instead of overdone/horrible repeats/remakes (3)
- Better quality movies (2)
- good movies (2)
- Accurate Biblical Theology instead of worldly twisted ideas of the truth.
- Adult films
- Anything I could relate to, or something informative
- A wider variety of films, including but not limited foreign and independent films
- Better content
- Better damn movies, i am sick of the re-runs and crap.
- Better movies and more free time
- Better movies and my friends are going
- Better movies being made and an increase in movie theatre experience
- Better movies that are more intellectual
- Better movies! There are so many movies and not very many good ones, and trust me, I have good taste.
- Better Movies, Better Advertising of Movies.
- Better movies, better times the movies are playing
- Better movies, cheaper tickets, cheaper snacks, something that I can't get from my home entertainment center, more free time on my part (I see a decent amount of movies in theaters during summer and breaks from school)
- Better movies. Also, Harry potter.
- Better movies. Cleaner movies
- Better movies. More comedy with Adam Sandler in them!
- Better movies. Movies that I could see with friends or my boyfriend.
- Better movies. There is a shortage of original material coming out on screen. People are too busy re-making old films.
- better movies...free food
- Better movies...there are so many good books that would make Great movies!
- Better people movies with intense and deep storylines instead of the stupid ones.
- Better prices, more comfortable environments and better concession choices.
- Better quality movies at a lower price
- Better quality movies that have good messages.
- Better storylines
- Better variety, better films
- Better wholesome movies
- Better year round movies rather than the ones at the holidays and during the summer.
- Better, more thought-out movie plots. Less senseless violence.
- Change in the content of the film.
- Good films
- Good movies and not a bunch of movies about dogs like the ones that are currently out.
- Good movies that are out, good reviews.
- Good reviews
- Great movies done by great directors
- Great trailers
- Have good films, usually only one a week that comes out.
• Hollywood releasing better movies, and if they stop trying to remake old classics.
• how awe-inspiring it is
• I don't think I could possibly be there more often since I work there.... but otherwise, I'd say no more remakes of old tv shows into movies and possibly just some better stories being made into movies. There's nothing original anymore.
• I feel like all of the movies out right now have generally the same storyline... so probably something new.
• If they had more movies like Lord of the Rings and Harry Potter and Chronicles of Narnia
• Just a greater amount of movies that I like and better (bigger) theaters.
• Less of those crappy romantic movies and kids movies
• Less remakes, more thoughtful, original movies.
• More artistic films, some avant-garde, independent films, better content, more in depth/thought provocative, etc.
• More bang for my buck
• More comedies
• More films that deal with social issues, such as Crash.
• More good movies and/or lower prices for films and food.
• more good movies being made that I have to see right away, and cheaper prices
• MORE GORE
• More interesting plot lines
• More interesting plot lines in movies (better stories)
• More intriguing movies.
• More movies in the genres I enjoy.
• More movies of interest to me, I don't like movies with blood
• More movies that are intriguing and new. Movies that are not all them same.
• More movies that I absolutely must see, lower ticket prices.
• More movies that I actually think are worth paying the ridiculous amount of money we have to pay to see it.
• More of my types of movies
• More original movies... I am so sick of the sequels and re-makes.
• More quality movies and cheaper prices.
• more reality type movies not so fake
• Movies I would like to see.
• movies of better quality, new plots, surprising twists.
• Movies that appealed to me more, and cheaper movie tickets!
• Movies that are worth the 15 bucks it ends up being to go watch a movie, I normally just rent the movies when they are out on DVD b/c its cheaper.
• Movies that draw excellent reviews and have good character development
• movies that were actually good and not full of objectionable material. I hate horror Movies, romantic comedies, and trashy films, which doesn't leave all that much.
• Movies that weren't as trashy
• Movies that would be "classics"
• Quality movies with actual plot, rather than shock factor.
• Really good movie and the time to see it.
• Something witty that you kept the ending a secret for longer than 5 minutes.
• The movie i am going to see. How interesting it appears
• Wider variety of movies
Prices:

- Cheaper/less expensive movie ticket prices (170)
- Cheaper prices/less expensive (198)

  - Cheaper movie ticket prices, better transportation to the theater.
  - Cheaper movie tickets, more movies that I think will be interesting

  - Cheaper prices, better movies, more epics and movies with a purpose
  - Cheaper prices, less people, better movies, more time

  - Cheaper prices. A car.
  - Cheaper prices. It is ridiculous to pay $8 to see a movie when you can own it when it comes out for $15, or even rent it for $2.
  - Cheaper prices. 7-9 dollars per ticket is just way too much.
  - Cheaper prices. As a guy, it costs too much to take a girl to the movies and then buy the tickets, expensive popcorn, drinks, candy.. etc. it can easily reach $30 for a movie, whereas it costs only a dollar or two to rent one and watch it in the comfort of a home.

• Cheaper ticket prices. Buying movie tickets is ridiculous now!
• Cheaper tickets and a way to get there
• cheaper tickets and more boobs

• Cheaper tickets or cheaper prices at the concession counter, something has got to give.
• Cheaper tickets, more movies that are my type.
• Cheaper tickets, someone to go with.
• Cheaper tickets. less noisy people during the movie.
• Cheaper tickets...it’s like $8.00 to go to a movie these days!
• CHEAPER!!!! And if I knew the movie was excellent and I wasn't wasting my money!
  (fear of disappointment and wasting money)
• Deals: cheaper matinees/late shows, discounts if purchasing more than one ticket, etc.
• Everything gets expensive anymore when going to a theater, so, I guess, a decrease in admission price. I mean, once you buy two tickets you no longer want to pay for soda, popcorn, etc. If you do, you end up paying like 25-30 dollars.
• Free early showings with no previews
• Free movies
• Free popcorn, cheaper
• Great deals and free tickets.
• Having the money since movies are pretty expensive
• having more money and time
• Having more money, and better movies
• I don't go to the movie theater because it costs too much. I would much rather go to library a few weeks later and rent it for $1.
• I go quite often, but cheaper tickets and concessions would draw me more
• I just go if I have extra money, and I am lacking other options on things to do.
• I would need to make more money
• if i had more money...college students are poor
• If it was cheaper and closer to where I live. Also if the snacks were cheaper, and better movies.
• if it wasn't so expensive, that's why i usually rent movies instead because its so much cheaper
• If it were cheaper. I'd rather spend the extra 4 dollars and buy the movie than just pay the 7 to watch it once
• If it were free!!
• If the movies were cheaper. I don't want to go and pay $8 when I could just rent it for less than half that later on.
• If the movies were free to see... I'm a college student, I don't have extra money laying around.
• If the price of rentals went up.
• If they lowered the prices. An average movie price around here is like $7.50
• It has to be less expensive, like 5 dollar tickets
• Less expensive and free popcorn or free refills.
• Less homework, a million dollars :-) and better movies (they seem like they are all the same/predictable)
• Lower price, fewer/no commercials, better movies
• Lower prices ($8-10 is too much!). Or the possibility of a double feature.
• Lower prices and a better selection of movies.
• Lower prices and a guarantee that some annoying kid wouldn't be kicking the back of my seat.
• Lower prices and back massages
• Lower prices and more movies in the genres I prefer, there are many action movies and comedies that seem to always take over the majority of the space in the theatre.
• Lower Prices and/or better movies
• Lower prices it cost too much when you could just wait and buy it when it comes out
• Lower prices on movie tickets and concessions. You can wait for it to come out and almost buy it to own for the price of seeing it once.

• Lower ticket costs...though this isn't a problem in my home town.
• Lower ticket prices at night, during the day it's fine.
• Lower ticket prices for new releases, lower ticket prices for older releases
• Lower ticket prices out here in Holland, and for my cheap friends to spend their money.
• lower ticket prices, a theater near me with more than 4 screens
• Lower ticket prices, and my friends demand, or i get a girlfriend.
• lower ticket prices, more time, and better quality theaters closer than Grandville
• Lower ticket prices. Although it is good that some give student discounts.
• Lowered prices, student discounts, group specials, or couple specials
• Lowering food prices and offering a wider array of movies.
• Lowering in prices. 8.50 is far too much for a poor university student.
• Maybe if it wasn't so expensive, but if its a movie that i really want to see then i dont mind paying the money but most of the time if the movie looks just ok then i will wait to rent it.
• More affordable prices
• More income for me or my boyfriend.
• More money and people willing to go with me
• PRICE! (Though we recently got a dollar theater)
• Prices to go down and for less people to be in the theater.
• Probably just lower costs, maybe advertising more on television.
• Probably if I just had more money to spend
• Really...to tell you the truth, the prices...I'm a college student!
• Reduce ticket prices, but it's never been a big thing for me
• The only movie theatre in town is very pricey. $6.50 per student, that is $13.00 including a date, before the popcorn and drinks.
• The price of movie tickets are so expensive. If the prices would go down I would be more likely to see movies.
• Theaters are so expensive. I'm a patient person so I generally just wait until I can borrow it from a friend or get it from the library. So, lower prices would be a must.
• Very, very low prices

N/A
• I don't have any problems with theaters. I like them just how they are. I would like lower ticket prices, but I know that's not going to happen.
• I don't know I go quite frequently already
• I don't know. I go when I feel like it I guess.
• I don't like to go to movies a lot just once in a while.
• I love the theater

• It is more convenient, comfortable, and with new technologies, oftentimes a better experience watching movies at home.
• N/A
• Not sure, I like going to them just how they are
• Nothing (3)
• Nothing. I think it is personal opinion. If you want to go to a movie theater you will go. If you want to stay at home you will also.
• Nothing. It's just easier to watch movies when they arrive in the mail, and I can watch them as I please.
• Nothing; I love going

Any other "musician" who is trying to act.
Any other actor from American Pie.
Anyone playing in a porn flick
Bad ones, like black men dressed up as fat women.
Most other singers who try to act.
That gut in scooby doo, scream, and hackers - I hate him
That guy in Kangaroo Jack
The actor who played darth vador in the new star wars....eww.
The guy in Duce Bigalo Male Gigalo, whoever that is
