Churches

In 1866 the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America (RCA) established Hope College. More than one century later, Hope College remains solidly affiliated with the Reformed Church, offering students not only a highly-regarded community of scholars, but also a spiritual dimension that has incredible vitality. Financial support of $62,656 from RCA churches, as well as many congregations of other denominations, allows Hope to sustain and strengthen its academic excellence and assure a vibrant commitment to the Christian faith.

The following churches financially supported Hope College this fiscal year. Gifts have been designated to a number of funds, including the Hope Fund, campus ministries programs, mission trips, and student scholarships.
